

Random Acts of Kindness Project

There will be a campaign across the community of James Smith Cree Nation to spread love and kindness. The project will be a contest of ideas to carry out the acts of kindness. The project will begin with an awareness campaign and youth and the community will have to enter their project proposals to a facebook page, and for those that are not online- can be handwritten, to enter. At the end of the Challenge for Communities the project will award the top three projects and the prize money will be given out accordingly.

The Jr. Chief and Council will promote the campaign on their various forms of social media to get the youth and community involved. There will be posters put up within the community buildings to further promote the campaign.

The projects will be listed on the community bulletin board and voted on. The winners will be awarded the prizes.
