

Volunteer Board Member

Nomination Inquiry

Northwest Community Futures Development Corporation (NCFDC) is a volunteer-based community economic development organization serving West Central Saskatchewan since 1989. The Corporation's Board of Directors provides governance through policy development and loan approval and represents the interests of all communities within the region.

Individuals seeking Board membership are expected to provide local input, expertise, and knowledge. Directorship is a three-year term position and Board meetings are monthly. If travel is required, expenses are reimbursed.

The ideal candidate should possess the following qualities:

- Non-political, volunteer representative.
- Good understanding, experience and knowledge of the local community and issues.
- Good understanding, experience, and knowledge of regional issues.
- Willingness to comply with Corporate policy, in particular Conflict of Interest, Confidentiality and Privacy.

If you are interested in a Directorship position or know of someone who may be interested, please contact us for further information.
